CY JOHNS DAY IN CITY TOMORROW

Budget Fight in Senate

Leader Appeals To Public for Support Against Appropriation Cuts

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader today appealed for public support in his fight to restore $94,500,000 cut from his budget by Republican legislative leaders.

The governor's appeal was made in a television address as the budget battle moved to the state Senate, where the GOP holds a slim 27-23 majority.

Over the weekend, both sides accused the other of distortion of facts over appropriation cuts made by the Republicans for departmental agencies for the next two years.

The governor, faced with a reaffirmed GOP position of no new taxes and the possibility the Senate will pass the appropriations as they came over from the House last week, said in his telecast he had already slashed almost 175 million dollars from the requests of state agencies before he submitted his budget last February.

Raps Welfare Cuts

"The additional cuts now proposed would not serve the cause of true economy — far from it" he said "To the contrary, these cuts—by destroying the very foundations of good, competent and humane government—would set back the cause of true economy for many years to come. This is not a Democratic budget. It is the public's budget, your budget."

The governor said in another statement that House GOP leaders "drastically distorted the true facts" in the current cost of state programs in defense of their budget slashes. He said the GOP distorted the "real figures" by more than 22 million dollars, because they based expenditures for eight or nine months instead of a full two-year fiscal period.

He warned that the proposed 27 million dollar cut in Welfare Department requests would destroy the state's program to rehabilitate juvenile delinquents, by wiping out plans for state forestry camps for juvenile offenders.

From the other side, Republican State Chairman George I.

RECORD-SETTING CLIMB — Adjusting himself into a pressurized metal capsule (left) Air Force Capt. Joe Kittinger, 28, is carried by a balloon (right) to an altitude of 96,000 feet or nearly 18 miles, the highest ever reached by a manned balloon. The flight originated from Fleming Field in South St. Paul, Minn., as part of operation "Man High" conducted by personnel of the Holloman Air Development Center, New Mexico.

Airman Soars Record 18 Miles into Space

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — An Air Force captain soared a record 18 miles into space in a balloon flight Sunday. He remained at that height for nearly two hours.

Capt. Joe Kittinger, 28, of Holloman Air Force Base, N. M., said he could see the eastern shore of Lake Michigan more than 300 miles away when he hit the record altitude for a balloon ascension.

The red-haired pilot ascended to more than 96,000 feet and remained aloft until he was ordered down because of a breakdown in radio communications. He had been scheduled to stay at that height for about six hours.

Tops Old Mark

The previous record balloon altitude was 72,395 feet, set last Nov. 8 in a launching near Rapid City, S.D.

Kittinger's record was about 30,000 feet short of the highest altitude man has ever reached. The altitude record for manned aircraft is 126,000 feet, set by the Air Force rocket plane X2.

Kittinger made the ascent sealed in a three-by-eight-foot capsule-type gondola.

"The ascension was so smooth I hardly knew I was airborne," Kittinger told newsmen Sunday night after undergoing a medical checkup. Doctors said the pilot's physical condition was "every bit as good" as when he left the ground.

Drops In Creek

Oxygen for the flight was supplied by a liquid oxygen converter, and carbon dioxide was removed by a chemical air regeneration system, enabling Kittinger to breath in the rarified atmosphere.

The balloon came down in a creek near Weaver, Minn., about 70 miles southeast of Minneapolis.

The gondola skimmed tree tops and utility lines in landing, but Kittinger was unharmed.

All told, Kittinger was in the air for six hours and 34 minutes.

Purpose of the flight was to gather scientific data and to conduct medical and psychological experiments for eventual manned rocket tests.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms; One At Local Plant

Monessen firemen answered two alarms over the weekend.

Firemen were called to help quell a fire at the No. 3 blast furnace department at the Monessen plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co. about 3:30 this morning.

Workers were pouring hot metal into a ladle when a "break out" occurred near the bottom of the ladle, causing the blazing metal to spill onto the dirt ground.

The firemen, using mill fire-fighting equipment stayed on the scene about 30 minutes.

No one was injured, according to Edwin A. Dawson, works manager.

Saturday afternoon firemen extinguished a flaming mattress at the rear of 1019 Schoonmaker avenue. No other damage resulted.

Dairy Workers To Vote Tonight

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Employes of 65 Western Pennsylvania dairies vote tonight on a contract offer designed to avert a threatened strike which could cut off milk deliveries in an 11-county area.

The new proposal was worked out during the past week by union leaders and members of the Greater Pittsburgh Dairy Industry Assn.

A walkout was authorized two weeks ago by members of Local 205, Milk and Ice Cream Salesmen, Drivers and Dairy Plant Employes Union. However, no strike date was set when the members rejected the association's original two-year proposal.

New Kensington Vote Re-canvass Asked by Four

Petitions alleging "fraud or error" in the New Kensington primary election were filed in Westmoreland County Court Saturday as pleas were made for a re-canvass of all voting machines used in the election.

The petitions were opposed by P. K. Jones, solicitor for the Westmoreland County Commissioners, who also serve as the County Election Board.

The petitions were filed on behalf of Edward Zaleski, who lost the Democratic mayor nomination by 48 votes according to the unofficial count to Mayor Raymond E. Gardlock, and Joseph Mennitto and C. L. Schmitt, who also lost by slim margins in the Democratic council race, and Atty. Joseph Loughran, of Greensburg, who finished third in the race for common pleas judge.

The petitions allege fraud or error in the count and that in four election districts watchers were refused to view the back of the voting machines as the totals were being counted.

Jones opposed the motion on the basis it would be costly.

Loughran disputed the move would be too costly and said that "all that was required of the county commissioners or court officials was to walk down the stairs in the court house to where the machines are stored and open them up to view the back where the totals are recorded."

Dawkins, according to Monessen police, will be brought here for a hearing on a charge of stealing an automobile.

New Castle Family Dies In Air Crash

SOMERSET, Pa. (UP)—A New Castle, Pa., family of four was wiped out Sunday when their light plane slammed into a fog-shrouded ridge of the Allegheny Mountains near here.

Authorities said Robert Fields Long, 26, telephone company worker and son of a prominent Lawrence County attorney with only 34 hours solo time to his credit, apparently became confused in the fog while flying home from Martinsburg, W. Va., on the last leg of a flight from Winterhaven, Fla.

Also killed in the crash were Long's wife, Jessie Joan, and their children, Jeffrey, 4, and Robert Jr., 18 months.

The plane, a single-engine Stinson Voyager station wagon, clipped a dead tree on isolated Albright Ridge and then virtually disintegrated as it cut a swath through a heavy forest.

Bodies Strewn

Coroner Robert H. Halverson said the bodies of the victims had been "dismembered and mutilated almost beyond recognition" and were strewn along the mountainside.

The search for the Long family began when Cletus Suttmiller, New Baltimore, notified state police he had heard a crash at about 8:10 a.m.

National Guard and private planes from Somerset and Bedford airports flew over the area but were hampered by low hanging clouds and fog. The swath cut in the forest was spotted by a pilot when visibility improved.

A rescue group of state police and 30 volunteers, headed by Sgt. James A. Blair of the Somerset state police barracks, struggled for six hours through the mountainous forests before reaching the wreckage to bring the bodies out.

Blair said the plane apparently struck the ridge at a 45-degree angle. It was strewn over a wide area but had not burned.

The Longs left New Castle last May 25 to vacation at Winterhaven.

The family spent Saturday night at Martinsburg because Long was

Minor Accidents On City Streets Over Weekend

Two minor motor accidents occurred in Monessen over the weekend, Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka reported today.

One mishap took place at the intersection of First St. and Schoonmaker Ave. about 3 p. m. Saturday and involved cars operated by John Luksich, of 1053 Graham Ave., Monessen, and Vincent DeMarco, of 210 Oakland Ave., Charleroi.

Nathan Zwail, of 216 Donner Ave., Monessen, told police he was traveling west on Donner Ave. between Second and Third streets Saturday morning when he struck a parked car belonging to Andrew Baron, of Washington Rd., Belle Vernon.

No one was hurt in either mishap, police stated.

KHRUSHCHEV ON U. S. TV SHOW — Nikita S. Khrushchev (left), Russia's Communist Party boss, is interviewed in Moscow on the television-radio program, "Face the Nation," for exclusive broadcast in the United States. The Soviet leader is shown with Stuart Novins, moderator of the show. This marked the first time that any top Red official had submitted to the free and unrehearsed questioning by American newsmen before a nationwide TV-radio audience.

Khrushchev Reports Arms Ban Position

LONDON (UP) — Russian boss Nikita Khrushchev's expressed readiness to take "some small step" toward disarmament bolstered Western hopes today for an agreement of sorts in the five-nation disarmament talks now underway in London.

Khrushchev said in an interview broadcast over a U.S. television and radio network (CBS) Sunday that the Soviet Union would be agreeable to a gradual approach to world disarmament similar to the plan reportedly brought here by Harold E. Stassen.

Stassen, disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower, goes before the U.N. disarmament subcommittee today with the NATO-approved plan he hopes will break the years-long deadlock on disarmament.

Suggests Troop Withdrawal

Khrushchev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, hinted that such a first step might be the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Western Europe and the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Eastern Europe—a suggestion almost certain to be rejected by the NATO powers.

But British observers said the tone of Khrushchev's speech appeared to indicate a broad measure of agreement between West and East on the question of convention disarmament.

What the official Soviet position would be was another matter. Moscow Radio and Soviet publications in the past week have sharply attacked Stassen and his still unannounced plan and rallied

ACCO President Honor Guest at Chamber Fete

Monessen will pay a compliment to a distinguished former citizen tomorrow when it observes "Cy Johns Day".

The day has been set aside by the Chamber of Commerce to honor Cyrus N. Johns, who has risen in the ranks of his firm to become president and chief executive officer of the American Chain & Cable Co., Inc., of which the Monessen Page plant is a division.

Johns spent the first 23 years of his business career in Monessen, joining the Page Division immediately upon graduating from the University of Missouri in 1916.

Starting in the operating department, he rose through the positions of sales engineer, production manager and assistant plant manager before becoming works manager in 1930.

The title was changed to general manager in 1933, and Johns remained in that position until his appointment in 1940 as vice president-operations of American Chain with headquarters in New York.

Here for 23 Years

He was elected executive vice president in 1946 and on May 1, 1951 became president of ACCO.

Tomorrow's activities will start at the Page plant at 9 a. m. with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and brief welcome addresses by Johns and Harvey W. Seymour, general manager.

An "open house" will then give the public a chance to tour the plant. "Open house" will be from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Products on Display

Page products will be displayed in the partially-completed $225,000 new wire patenting building. Refreshments will be served to visitors there.

At noon, Johns will address the Rotary Club of which he is a former member. Afterwards he will tour Monessen with city and civic officials and attend a reception in his honor at Monongahela Valley Country Club.

A testimonial banquet at the Slovak Home begins at 6:30 p. m. Johns will deliver the main address.

Johns will speak of his association with ACCO and recall some of his experiences while working and living in Monessen.

William J. Huston, general chairman of the affair, will introduce the following persons at the ribbon - cutting ceremonies at 9 a. m.:

Minor Layoff At Allenport; 51 Furloughed

An inventory reduction on the "part of our customers" has resulted in the shifting of personnel at the Allenport plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co., Carl Breuer, vice president-operations, announced today.

The minor decline in orders in the firm's sheet mill department, he said, has resulted in 111 men from that department being placed in the tube mill department. This shifting of personnel has caused 51 men from the tube mill to be laid off temporarily.

Allenport employs some 3,300 persons.

In his announcement this morning, Breuer stated:

"July's production in the sheet mill is expected to be lower than June's, which was lower than production in May. However, we expect a very fast upturn in orders and production during August."

He said the layoffs "considering the number of people at Allenport, are very minor. At present we anticipate no further layoffs."

He further stated there is a "usual decline in sheet orders this time of year. The orders pick up when the production of new automobiles gets started."

Ike Asks for $149 Millions In Postal Funds

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress for $149,500,000 in extra money to operate the postal service in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

He said it was necessary to prevent the major reduction in postal services threatened by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

The supplemental appropriation request is necessitated, the President said, by a sharply increasing volume of mail and a resultant heavier workload in the Post Office Department.

In January the administration asked $3,250,600,000 for the postal service in the new fiscal year, but Congress cut this back to $3,192,000,000.

Eisenhower's request today, contained in a letter to House Speaker Sam Rayburn, included $92,100,000 in new funds plus restoration of the $57,400,000 cut by Congress from the original budget request.

The President when he signed the reduced appropriation on May 27, said that without additional funds postal services would be "substantially curtailed" beginning July 1, the start of the new fiscal year.

The new money included $64,900,000 to cover the cost of increased workload, $21,600,000 for increased average salaries required by law and $5,600,000 to meet claims.

Israel Is Threatening Arab Retaliatory Raids

By UNITED PRESS

Israel today coupled an apparent peace feeler to the Arab nations with a warning it may have to retaliate if Arab commando raids continue from the Egyptian-administered Gaza Strip.

Premier David-Ben Gurion put out the apparent peace feeler when he told parliament Israel wished to renew and maintain normal relations "with any nation, no matter its regime."

But he added that "outbursts of enmity and provocations by certain nations" were still causing Israel "sorrow and anxiety."

Israeli officials' warning to Egypt about renewed Fedayeen attacks said there had been 50 minor attacks and that Israel must halt them before world opinion "again becomes accustomed to infiltration."

The Israeli charges brought a reply from Egyptian Information Director Abdel Kadar Hatem that Israel had launched a series of armed infiltrations into the Gaza Strip to divert attention from internal rifts in the Israeli government.

Israel itself came under bitter attack at the meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations in Karachi. Prime Minister Al Ayed Nouri of Iraq called Israel "the most serious source of danger to the peace and stability of the Middle East."

He accused Israel of "flagrant acts of aggression" against the Arab states.

Lebanon's political crisis appeared over and the government said it did not plan the arrest of opposition leaders who demonstrated against the government last week.

Perryopolis Youth Shot in Abdomen

A 20-year-old Perryopolis youth was recovering today in Buffalo General Hospital after trying to take his own life.

A 32-caliber revolver and a note were found beside him.

U.S. Trade Policy with Red China Faces Study

Senators Urge 'New Look' at Entire Situation

WASHINGTON (UP)—Pressure built up in the Senate today for a reevaluation of the U.S. policy barring American trade with Red China.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) called on the administration to make a "thorough study" of the whole question in the light of Britain's decision last week to lower the bars against such commerce.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) took a similar tack over the weekend. He urged a "new look" at the "entire Chinese trade situation.

The "new look," he said, will be "one of our most pressing problems in the months ahead.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) came out flatly for a resumption of trade with China. He said it was the only Christian thing" for the United States to do.

Morse said in a speech in Grossinger, N.Y., Sunday night that "You cannot reconcile with faith in a God a policy that seeks to reduce to poverty and privation people of yellow skin because they do not adhere to our political faith."

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) already has said his Senate Commerce Committee would hold hearings on the question. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said his group also should conduct an inquiry.

Other congressional news:

Foreign Aid: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee planned further closed-door hearings on President Eisenhower's $3,865,000,000 foreign aid program. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he hopes it will have a bill ready for Senate action next week. He predicted Congress would not make any "meat-ax" cuts in the program.

Lunch: President Eisenhower planned to attend a harmony lunch on Capitol Hill with House Republicans. House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin (Mass.) hosted the $1.19 chicken and potato-salad box lunch to try to improve relations between the White House and Congress.

Oil: Sens. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) headed for the White House to make a personal appeal to President Eisenhower for action to cut down imports of foreign oil. Carlson has organized a group of oil state senators to talk over ways for achieving a cutback in oil imports. He said oil imports now account for almost 19 per cent of domestic consumption and are "headed up" still further.

Crime: Sen. John Marshal Butler (R-Md.) said he has suggested to President Eisenhower that a conference of federal, state and local law enforcement officials be called to coordinate action for fighting "the dangerous increase in major crimes." Butler said he has asked Senate judiciary subcommittees to re-examine federal criminal laws "with a view to strengthening them and to increasing penalties.'

wary of weather conditions over southern Pennsylvania. They left the West Virginia airfield about 7 a.m. and planned to arrive at New Castle at about 9 a.m. Sunday.

Long's flight plan called for him to reach New Castle by way of Somerset and Leechburg. The spot where the plane crashed in Allegheny Township of Somerset County was a few miles northeast of the proposed flight plan.

Long, son of Lawrence County Asst. Dist. Atty. Wilbert Long, was a member of a flying club at New Castle and was understood to have been taking instruction for a commercial pilot's license. He was a telephone installer.

Richard Skillman, Butler, aeronautics investigator for the state police, was scheduled to begin a formal inquiry into the crash today.

Budget

Bloom charged the Leader administration has been waging a "vicious campaign of distortion and misrepresentation" against the GOP fiscal program.

Bloom said in a letter sent to GOP legislators, county leaders and members of the Republican State Committee that "the big issue now is whether the executive branch of our state government can dominate and control the legislative branch by the use of its vast propaganda machine financed by state funds."

Meanwhile, Dr. Robert A. Matthews, state mental health commissioner, warned that 22 community mental health clinics throughout Pennsylvania will be "in danger" unless the GOP restores $1,348,035 in state funds.

Matthews also said elimination of the allocation would prevent the communities from receiving federal matching funds.

Animals Studied for Reaction to A-test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Scientists today examined scores of mice, pigs and monkeys exposed to radiation in the Atomic Energy Commission's latest A-test at the Nevada proving grounds.

They hoped their study would lead to the development of a practical shield to protect humans from the "prompt" radiation which flares out when a nuclear device is detonated.

The animals were anesthetized and placed at varying distances behind various types of shields before Sunday's test of a "small" nuclear device blasted off atop a 300-foot steel tower.

"Dosimeters" were surgically inserted into the bodies of some of the animals to count internal as well as external dosages of radiation.

The "shot" Sunday was the second in the AEC's spring-summer series, the most extensive ever staged by any nation. It was detonated after three 24-hour delays at the test site 75 miles northwest of here.

Its kick of 2,000 tons of TNT was the second smallest in the history of tests on continental United States. The device was five times less powerful than last Tuesday's opening blast and ten times weaker than the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Two hours after the blast, the AEC called back the planes assigned to keep track of the atomic cloud because radiation from the air mass which contained the remnants of the detonation was so small.

The third test in the series was scheduled for Tuesday morning.

Powell Suffers Heart Attack

NEW YORK (UP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Negro minister and Democratic congressman, was reported resting comfortably today at New York Hospital where he was admitted Sunday for exhaustion and a possible heart ailment.

The 48-year-old Powell, the husband of pianist Hazel Scott, became ill while conducting a service for 2,000 parishioners at the Abyssinian Baptist Church, of which he is pastor.

Khrushchev's interview with CBS took the cold war into the American living room—and with it a statement that "I can prophesy that your grandchildren in America will live under socialism."

But his frank discussion of many East-West problems and his apparent willingness to seek agreement brought renewed hope to the London arms talks. Observers said if Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin backed up Khrushchev's words with some deeds the subcommittee might at last be near to making real progress after long and weary months of negotiation.

Some of what Khrushchev said was accepted, but Western delegates pointed to the impracticality of accepting his troop removal plan. Though Soviet troops might be pulled back as far as 3,000 miles from the border, the problem of logistics would be far simpler than returning American troops across the Atlantic should the problem ever come up.

23 Killed in State Over Long Weekend

By UNITED PRESS

Pennsylvania's traffic death toll during the four-day Memorial Day weekend was one of the longest in the nation.

A United Press tabulation of fatal highway accidents showed that at least 23 men, women and children died in the period from 6 p.m. last Wednesday until midnight Sunday. Scores of others were injured, some critically.

The first big holiday weekend of the spring - summer season claimed at least 21 additional lives — including six in plane crashes, seven by drowning, two in fires, and a half dozen in miscellaneous types of mishaps.

Fair weather drew hundreds of thousands of motorists out on the highways eager to make the most of the long holiday. Many of the fatal wrecks occurred in the early and closing hours of the period—when traffic is at its heaviest.

The deaths of two children who were struck by a flying wheel from an automobile in a Memorial Day stock car race at Shippensville in Clarion County was the first major tragedy of the weekend.

Three girls — two 19-years old and the third 20—died of injuries suffered Thursday night in a two-car crash in Jefferson Borough near Pittsburgh—the biggest multiple-death traffic crash in the list.

Another Sunday plane crash claimed the lives of two Lycoming County men when their single-engined private plane crashed into Bald Eagle Mountain near Williamsport.

The traffic casualties since Saturday:

Williamsport: Mrs. Morris Sherman, Mount Morris, N.Y. was killed and three other persons were injured Sunday when their automobile missed a curve and hit a tree near Salladasburg 15 miles northwest of Williamsport.

Carlisle: Charles C. Simmons 28, Carlisle RD 2 died of injuries suffered Saturday night when his panel truck ran off the road and down an embankment east of Carlisle.

Pittsburgh: Mary L. Maksin 19 Clairton, died Sunday in McKeesport Hospital—the third victim of a two-car crash in which two 19-year-old girls died Memorial Day. Killed at the scene in the wreck near Clairton were Carmilla M. Marm 19, Brentwood, and Joan Scarborough 20, Clairton. A fourth victim, George D. Barton, Pittsburgh, is still hospitalized.

Lancaster: James Avers, 45 New Holland, died of a fractured skull suffered Sunday when struck by an automobile while bicycling near his home.

Altoona: Elymyra Hartman, 76, Elyria, Ohio, was killed Saturday night when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another vehicle at an intersection near Altoona.

Mercer: David English, 16, Conneautville, was fatally injured Saturday night when the automobile in which he was riding failed to make a curve and struck a utility pole near Sharpsville in Mercer County.

Milton: Robert J. Moore, 22, Watsontown, died Saturday after his motorcycle went out of control and struck a tree.

Pottsville: Anthony Marcovitch, 22, Forrestville, died Saturday of injuries suffered when his automobile struck the rear of a truck near Pottsville.

Philadelphia: William D. Regan, 9, Philadelphia, was killed Saturday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a truck.

Hanover: Janet Tanasis, 3, McSherrystown, died in Hanover General Hospital Saturday of a skull fracture and internal injuries suffered when struck by an automobile near her home.

York: Mrs. Mary L. Ebaugh, York died in West Side Osteopathic Hospital of injuries suffered Saturday night when the car in which she was riding struck a utility pole near the Yorktowne Golf Course.

Deny Earth Satellite Program Off Schedule

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UP) — Claims that the earth satellite program is lagging are disputed vigorously by Defense Department and Navy officials responsible for getting the first man-made moon into space.

Pentagon leaders say they have been more conservative from the start than some scientists who, they believe, underestimated the time and cost of carrying out one of the most ambitious projects of the ages — launching a satellite that will circle the earth every 90 minutes at an altitude of 300 to 1,500 miles.

These officials say scientists who have given up hope that the sphere will be launched into an orbit about the earth by next September merely have abandoned a hope they probably never should have had anyway.

The question of whether the multi-million dollar satellite, or Vanguard, program is being delayed has arisen from recent congressional testimony by the National Science Foundation and members of the U S National Committee for the International Geophysical Year (IGY). Testimony was interpreted as showing that launching of the first satellite will be "delayed" until next year instead of meeting a September, 1957 "target date."

A Pentagon official said today the September date must have been taken "out of thin air" before "a stroke of work" had been done on the mammoth task of designing and building rockets to launch the vehicle and equipment to track it.

Only Vague Commitment

He said the "only commitment" the Defense Department ever made was to get the first of six planned satellites into space by the end of IGY, that is, by Dec 31, 1958 (The year begins July 1) To do that, he said, will require "condensing time an awful lot."

The earliest date for an attempted launching — with success at first by no means assured—now appears to be next March or April, and the Navy only reluctantly agrees that it may be that soon.

If for no other reasons, the launching would likely be that distant because the optical and telescopic tracking stations will not be installed around the world until then.

Dr. Richard W Porter told a House Appropriations Subcommittee "we are not entirely happy about" the time it is taking to get the telescope stations and "a good deal of effort has gone into trying to improve the situation." Contractors apparently can move no faster he said.

The committee turned over to the Pentagon the task of launching the satellite and providing radio tracking stations. The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, Cambridge, Mass., has responsibility for the telescope stations.

Before so - called "earnest tries" can be made with the satellite, five more test launches of varying rocket combinations are scheduled Pentagon officials expect the interval between test launchings to be less than it was for the two already tested. The first was last Dec. 8, the second on May 1.

Extensive Test Program

Officials point to the extensive test program still lying ahead to demonstrate that lack of tracking stations is not the only factor preventing an "earnest try" by next September.

Porter testified "that was the target date — September — or the period that we had hoped for."

He conceded "it would not be unreasonable to expect" delays in a project of such magnitude.

The object is to shove a 21-pound sphere containing about 11 pounds of instruments into an orbit where it can circle the earth at 18,000 miles an hour for a "few weeks" to a "few years." To do that requires an assembly of three rockets, 72 feet long overall, that leaves the ground with 27,000 pounds of thrust or almost three times the power of a jet engine in a modern fighter.

The minimum altitude to avoid "drag" that would soon slow down the satellite and end its adventure is 300 miles above the earth. Speed and direction of launching must be precise. A one - degree change in the planned angle at which the vehicle enters its orbit will change its altitude 75 miles. Every 100 miles an hour variation from planned speed will alter altitude by 100 miles.

The project goes "to the present limits — or beyond — of our engineering knowledge in many fields" the Navy said a year ago, and there is "a chance of failure."

But the more likely prospect is eventual success. And Dr. James A Van Allen, chairman of the group in charge of instruments for the satellite, says if one planned experiment on cosmic rays is successful "we will supplant easily 11 years' work with one day's worth of satellite observations."

Boys Brigade Corps Accepted

The recently organized Monessen Boys Brigade Drum and Bugle Corps yesterday was accepted as a member of the Third Pennsylvania Regiment at a meeting in Monroeville, it was announced by Capts. Bob Jodon and Jim Shrader, of the local organization.

Since being organized, the Monessen unit has participated in several parades and just recently won prizes in events at Cokeburg and Webster.

The corps is made up of 30 uniformed boys.

Any boy interested in joining the organization is asked to contact Capt. Jodon.

Safety Leaders Praise Low Road Death Toll

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's motorists and law enforcement agencies won plaudits from safety leaders today for combining to hold the Memorial Day holiday traffic death toll "well below" estimates.

Safety officials had feared the four-day holiday death count on the highways would hit 450, but it appeared the final toll would fall far short of that mark.

The National Safety Council, which considered the holiday as ended at midnight on Memorial Day, termed the four-day traffic toll "admirable, even for a normal week end."

"We congratulate motorists and traffic law agencies on holding the long week end toll down to below what is expected for a non-holiday week end at this time of year," Safety Council spokesman Paul Jones said.

A United Press count at 9 45 a m edt showed at least 389 persons were killed in traffic accidents from 6 p m Wednesday to midnight Sunday night. Plane crashes killed 21 persons, 133 drowned and 89 died in a variety of other accidents for a weekend total of 632 deaths.

California had the worst traffic record with 33 killed. Texas was next with 30, Ohio 25, Pennsylvania 23, Georgia 21, Illinois 20, Michigan 17 and Indiana 16.

In one of the week end's worst traffic wrecks, five persons were killed and three others injured seriously Sunday in a two - car collision during a rainstorm near Stamford, Tex. The victims included a young couple and their two children.

Four young persons, two boys and their dates, were killed Sunday night when their car was struck by a passenger train at a crossing near Wausau, Wis. All of the dead were from Wausau.

Other severe accidents occurred in a rash of airplane accidents.

'Study' Isn't Enough

AMONG several important subjects which are getting the run-around at Harrisburg as the lawmakers battle over the budget and yearn for adjournment is air pollution control.

As a measure of the growing public concern, mostly in industrial areas, about air pollution we can cite the fact that about a dozen bills on the subject have been introduced at the current session. Since legislators have a way of presenting bills dealing with subjects which are on the minds of their constituents, it is safe to assume that more people than ever think the time has come to regulate in some practical way what can be thrown into the air they breathe.

One of the bills (S-829) actually reached the floor of the Senate last week, only to be re-referred to the Local Government Committee, presumably for further study. And in all likelihood, the "study" will take a long time unless public opinion is aroused to the point of insisting upon action.

It is interesting to note that the State Chamber of Commerce is among the groups which prefer to "study" air pollution. It warns the legislature that "hasty action might do great damage to the economy of Pennsylvania." Yet the State Chamber annually sponsors a contest among Pennsylvania cities to encourage civic improvement!

The Chamber recommends that the whole subject be referred to the Joint State Government Commission "for study". But it must be aware that the JSGC has already studied smoke control and, in 1951, made a report to the legislature in which it recommended regional attacks on air pollution by units not smaller than one county and urged financial assistance by the commonwealth and establishment of a State Office of Smoke Control in the Department of Health.

The subject is certainly one that deserves a lot of study. But study without action is going to control very little smoke.

Policy Changed

MONESSEN'S school board, in an effort to put its financial house in order and keep pace with the rising costs of education, hit the taxpayers a couple of sharp blows last week. It adopted a near-record budget which requires an increase of three mills in the tax on real estate. And it increased the school district's debt by $275,000 in order to pay off some accumulated debts and meet a budget deficit for the current year.

These actions are part of a change of policy which sees the district discarding a deficit-financing arrangement which began with the construction of the new High School building. Now presumably the district will be on a pay-as-you-go basis, with a short-term "floating" debt eliminated.

The tax resources of Monessen are so substantial that even these serious measures can be absorbed with relatively little disturbance to the credit of the school district. Its financial position remains strong.

Nevertheless, we think the taxpayers are entitled to some assurance from the directors that the district's finances will be handled more circumspectly than they have been in the recent past. Particularly needed is better budget discipline throughout the school year. Except for genuine emergencies, the board should spend no money that is not provided for in the budget. This is the only way it can avoid a repetition of its embarrassing difficulties.

FCC Stalling

WE WERE sorry to read last week that the Federal Communications Commission has postponed again its long-delayed decision concerning pay-as-you-see television.

This decision has been pending for several years, during which the FCC has received extensive information and advice concerning what it ought to permit a trial of the subscription TV idea. But the best the agency could do last week was to agree that the idea deserves a trial. When and under what circumstances it leaves for still further study.

Subscription TV makes obvious sense as a way of broadening the use of television in the public interest. Its backers say it would open up certain possibilities which television exclusively by advertising isn't now doing. And the FCC admits they make a strong case.

This further delay in arranging a trial — which is the only real way to determine the practicability of subscription TV — seems to be a case of bureaucratic stalling.

Donice Lehew Wed To Jay F. Schumm

In the First Presbyterian Church of Belle Vernon on Saturday morning, June 1, Donice Lehew became the bride of Jay F. Schumm. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lehew, of 500 Arch St., Belle Vernon and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Schumm, of 1444 Graham Ave.

The Rev. S. George Clarke, church pastor, heard the exchange of the double ring vows at 11:30 o'clock. The ceremony was solemnized before an altar banked with fern and tall white tapers and centered with a bouquet of white gladiolus. White crash lined the church aisle used by the bridal party and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Miss Johnston Sings

Preceding the nuptials, Mrs. John Bunardzva played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied the vocalist, Darlene Johnston. Her selections were "Always" and "O Promise Me".

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white gown styled with a fitted French Chantilly lace bodice, a sabrina neckline and short sleeves. The back interest was provided by a row of tiny self covered buttons. The front of the bouffant skirt was designed of nylon dotted swiss and was fashioned in tiers edged with Chantilly. The back ended in a chapel sweep. Her fingertip veil of sheer illusion was held to a cap of lace edged in a double row of nylon tulle ruffles accented by a pearl teardrop on her forehead. She wore matching elbow length mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Bridal Party

Carmella Stringhill, of Belle Vernon, was the maid of honor. She wore a pink gown of embroidered nylon styled with a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a sabrina neckline. Dinner was served at Rego's in Charleroi immediately after the ceremony and covers were laid for 40 family members and the bridal party. Spring flowers and tall lighted tapers decorated the table.

Grid Prices Up at Pitt

Football admission prices have been boosted at Pitt for the upcoming season. Individual game tickets will cost $4 this year instead of the previous $3.25 . . . Incidentally the admission charge for home games at Notre Dame is up to $5 . . . No one can accuse the Laszewski family for dragging their feet in the current Midget League concession project at Memorial Stadium. Carl Laszewski, an MFL director, not only laid many of the cement blocks in the 90 foot long structure, but he brought his wife and sons along to keep him supplied with mortar! . . . Incidentally the MFL will start the 1957 season with $1600 in the bank. A good portion of that money will be used for the purchase of new equipment.

Monessen's Babe Kroskie has been elected a vice-president of the American Rubberband Duckpin Bowling Congress. She's the only feminine veep in the organization . . . Incidentally Babe "complains" that she's receiving too much publicity. "They're starting to call me a part-time wife," she kids. Actually Babe's husband, Ed, approves of her bowling activities. He's quite a bowler himself and compiled a nifty 171 average in league play the past season. It was Babe who introduced the sport to Mr. Kroskie. And it wasn't long until he was much better than me," reveals Babe. That keeps peace in the family.

Pottios Sure for Notre Dame?

Notre Damers hereabouts tell us Charleroi's splendid football prospects, Myron Pottios and Bill Pentz, are going to South Bend this fall, no ifs, ands or buts. The two boys have been offered their choice of several summertime jobs by friends of the Irish . . . Armand Mori, the faculty manager of athletics at Monessen High, hopes to sell "at least" 1,000 adult season tickets prior to the start of the '57 grid campaign . . . Charleroi swimmer Gus Brickner reports that July 14 will be "the happiest day of my life." That's when Gus is due to leave for a crack at the English Channel. He's busy preparing for the swim with daily "marathons" on the Monongahela River.

According to Pitt officials, the current football season ticket sale is on a par with that of 1956 when a record total of 17,142 was peddled . . . Don Baker, Charleroi High's clever halfback who missed most of last season because of a shoulder injury, is headed for North Carolina State. A teammate, Johnny Lenhart, plans to enroll at Wittenburg (O.) College . . . In eleven Mon Valley League games this season, the Monessen Ozarks have failed to hit at least one home run in only two of them . . . Speaking of the Ozarks, Bellmar's second baseman, Rudy Houseman, has joined the club.

Pirates Schedue Ladies Day

The Pittsburgh Pirates have scheduled a special ladies day on Saturday, June 15. Ordinarily the Bucs play host to the fairer sex on Thursday afternoons. However they figure the Saturday date would give the working girls a chance to sit in on the fun . . . The Fayette County Coaches Association will hold its 12th annual banquet next Saturday at the Shadyside Inn near Uniontown. Sportscaster Bob Prince will serve as toastmaster . . . Mel Cook, Jr., the former Golden Glove champion from Monessen, is passing out cigars after his wife presented him with a daughter . . . The Pirates are leading the National League in triples at the moment.

Veteran Fay Crocker Still Looks to Future

By OSCAR FRALEY

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UP)—Fay Crocker is a lady with quite a pitch and putt past, but the fillies of the fairways will tell you that she has quite a future, too.

Fay is the gal from Uruguay who has been playing golf since she was six years old. And, if she wasn't so touchy about her age, I'd tell you that she's 38 years old.

But Fay finished the five-round Triangle golf marathon at Cavalier Country Club Sunday with a fine sun - baked 75 which picked up all the first place marbles.

Outlasts Younger Golfers

While the younger set among the lady professionals faltered under this golfing grind, Fay marched blithely through the Virginia sunshine to wrap up her triumph.

Not bad, you must admit, for a gal who was so bored with her triumphs four years ago that she almost gave up the game—before scoring her most notable victories.

Fay had been the Uruguayan women's amateur champion 20 times, as well as the Argentinian champion 14 times, when she decided to invade the United States. Her first attempt at the U.S. Amateur was a failure and, with everybody making her the prime target every time she stepped teeside at home, Fay had just about "had it."

"I had everything to lose down there and not much more to gain," she says.

But her brother talked her into coming back to the States and taking a shot at the professional tour. Suddenly, Fay had another and more worthwhile challenge. She wasn't the kingpin anymore and it took her more than a year to win her first tournament.

That Started It

Ever since then, she has been one of the leading stars on the women's pro circuit, capping it all with a victory in the U.S. Women's Open two years ago.

Fay, who has shot a dozen holes in one, comes from a golfing family. Her father, an Uruguayan importer whose family hailed originally from Martha's Vineyard, was amateur champion of Uruguay an incredible 27 times. Her mother was the women's champion six times.

"I owe all my golfing success to Dad and to Bobby Jones," she says. "After I really became interested in the game, I got some movie clips of Bobby Jones' swing and patterned my game after his. This even though I didn't meet him until 1945."

Key Midget League Meeting Wednesday

Monessen's Midget Football League will make plans for its elaborate new concession stand at Memorial Stadium during a meeting at Memorial Civic Center on Wednesday.

The league hopes to finance its rather expensive program in the future through revenue from concession rights at the Stadium.

At the moment volunteer workers are putting the finishing touches on a 90-foot concrete block structure.

Harry McGraw, chairman of the concessions committee, plans to move into the stand by July 3. That's when a big Independence Day celebration is planned by the Lions Club.

'We want all of the parents to turn out for the meeting this week,' said McGraw. "If everyone helps, we should have no trouble making this project a success."

Self-Sustaining

League officials are confident that concession revenues will be enough to finance the program in the future without the need of further public appeals. Thus the MFL will become a self-sustaining program.

"In the past, the parents have given us the finest cooperation," pointed out McGraw. "We are confident they will respond for Wednesday's meeting."

All MFL directors and friends are also asked to attend the session.

Charleroi Clips Van Voorhis, 3-0

NCAA Lessens Penalties at Several Schools

CHICAGO (UP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. sat back today to see if its policy of rewarding virtue was going to pay off.

The NCAA's 18-man policy-creating council, three members of which were absent, voted over the week end to restore "full rights and privileges" to Texas A&M, which had been placed on one year's probation and total ineligibility in May, 1956.

The NCAA said it was reinstating the Aggies despite the fact it had proof of at least one rules infraction made even after last May's penalty.

NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers said the council decided to return the Aggies to full status because Texas A&M officials had made "a number of corrective measures" since the NCAA first clamped a lid on the school's athletic program last May.

"The council wanted to establish the idea that it is as ready to reward honest attempts to clear up a situation as it is to penalize wrongdoing," Byers said.

The group also voted at the same meeting to place the University of Omaha on one year's probation and to declare Montana State College on probation and fully ineligible.

Omaha was penalized for using two professional baseball players on its football team despite repeated NCAA letters of warning. Montana State, located at Bozeman, had the book thrown at it for playing in the non-sanctioned Aluminum Bowl last December.

Bucs Take Twin Bill From N. Y.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—It was a long time coming, but the Pittsburgh Pirates finally have their first double-header victory of the season.

The twin triumph came Sunday at the expense of the New York Giants by scores of 3-2 and 2-0. Bob Purkey, who scattered four singles in the nightcap for his fourth win, also halted Willie Mays' consecutive hitting streak after 21 games.

Purkey ran into serious trouble only once and that was in the eighth inning when with one out the Giants got two of their four hits. But the right-hander pitched out of danger by retiring pinch-hitters Ray Jablonski and Hank Sauer on a fly out and strike out respectively.

Fondy Good

Dee Fondy jumped his National League batting lead several percentage points by collecting five hits in eight at-bats. He also drove in a run in each game.

The Pirates' scoring in the nightcap came in the fifth inning when Fondy doubled home Bill Mazeroski and in the sixth when relief pitcher Steve Ridzik walked Purkey with the bases loaded.

Relief pitching by southpaw Luis Arroyo in the ninth inning of the first game preserved Ronnie Kline's first victory of the year after seven defeats.

Arroyo Saves Tilt

Arroyo entered the game after Daryl Spencer and Ozzie Virgil singled with only one man out. The Cuban then struck out pinch-batter Foster Castleman and retired Red Schoendienst on a fly to end the game.

All three Pittsburgh runs in the first game crossed in the fourth inning while both Giant runs resulted from homers. Schoendienst hit his fourth in the fifth inning and Mays belted an inside-the-park job an inning later.

The same teams meet tonight at Forbes Field with Vernon Law (2-2) going for Pittsburgh against New York's Ruben Gomez (6-3).

Ozarks Host to New Eagle Nine

Mon Valley League Teams Meet Tonight at Ninth Street Park

Monessen's Ozarks will try to get back into the winning groove tonight when they play host to New Eagle at Ninth Street Park.

The Ozarks started out by winning their first four Mon Valley League assignments. Since then, they've lost six of seven tests.

That lone slump has dropped them all the way down to sixth place in the league standings.

And if they lose tonight, the Monessen boys will slip another notch.

Bill Mitnick, Ozark mound ace, will probably start. Mitnick, who was overworked the first couple weeks of the season, figures to be well-rested again.

Hark-Luck Team

The visiting New Eagle nine has been the league's hard-luck team so far. The NE boys have lost more than their share of close games.

Two other league tussles are scheduled today. West Newton will go to Fayette City and Perryopolis will appear at Donora.

Two games are also slated tomorrow. Charleroi will go to New Eagle and Perryopolis to Van Voorhis.

On Wednesday, the MVL program will show Monessen at Fayette City, Van Voorhis at Perryopolis, Charleroi at Donora and New Eagle at West Newton.

Hit Putt Solid

According to my lengthy and close observations, the only point held in common by all good putters is that they hit the ball solidly. By that I mean that they bring the center of the face of the putter into contact with the center of the ball.

In all good putts, hitting the ball solidly is the only way "touch" can be achieved — touch being the unconscious ability to hit the ball so as to give it the desired speed or momentum. The player who tends to hit his putts off-center must hit some of them more off-center than others.

And now and then, by chance, he will hit one center. Thus he can never be sure of the amount of power he is getting behind the ball.

Practice hitting the ball squarely on your putts. It will pay off in added effectiveness on the greens — I guarantee it.

Snead Wins in Palm Beach Open

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (UP)—Sam Snead proved by his weekend victory in the Palm Beach Round Robin tournament that when his putting touch is good he's as tough to beat as any golfer there is.

And Doug Ford, the Masters champion and leading money-winner on the pro circuit, demonstrated that he can blow up just like any week-end golfer.

Snead, trailing by 20 points after Ford started off Sunday's fifth round with four straight birdies, shot a four-under-par 67 to win the $3,000 first prize in the Palm Beach tournament. Ford lost his big advantage when he shot four straight bogeys and took a 71 that left him in second place.

Ben Hogan, who will be seeking an unprecedented fifth National Open title next week, had a fifth-round 70 and tied for third place with Tommy Bolt of Los Angeles. Each had 14 points, Bolt shooting a final-round 72.

Next in the standings came Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., with 13 points. Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., with six, and Venturi with four.

Bowden Is First Yank to Break Four Minute Mile

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP)—Splinter-thin Don Bowden, who ran a 3:58.7 mile Saturday night to become the first American to break the four-minute barrier, said today his future track career involves "two aims."

—"I want to break John Landy's world record of 3:58."

—"I want to redeem myself for my 1956 Olympic showing (when he finished back in the 1,500 meters pack)."

The first aim must await next year, as the 6-3 California junior says he is "finished as a miler, this year." The latter goal, he hopes to attain, in the 1969 Rome Olympic Games.

At this early stage of his career, he apears a cinch to do both.

The youngest, at 20, ever to better four minutes, he has improved tremendously each year. His previous best individual mile, from a standing start, was 4:09.9, posted earlier in the season. But the die was cast when he turned a 4:01.6 anchor lap on the California medley relay team two weeks ago.

Relaxing here at home with his family and friends, following his tremendous performance at Stockton Saturday night in the Pacific Association AAU meet, Bowden said he "would concentrate" on the half mile for the remainder of the 1957 season.

Elks, VFW Set Little Loop Pace

Elks and VFW are atop their respective Little League races again today.

They advanced to the top during LL action on Saturday. Elks beat the Legion, 20-6, in National play while VFW handled Page Local, 21-3, in American action.

The Elks unloaded a murderous 20-hit attack for their win. George Katsuleris had two homers and two doubles to pace things. Ed Kilpela chipped in with a homer, double and two singles, while Larry Davis had a homer, two doubles and a single.

For the losers, Bruce Davis tried hard with a double and single.

Lions Win

The Lions won their first game of the season by upsetting CIO, 11-3.

Frank Destefano clouted a homer, double and single to pace the victors. Richard Kunsa came through with two doubles.

For CIO Ralph Nuzzaci led the way with a pair of singles.

VFW had no trouble romping to a 21-3 win over Page Local. The Vets scored in every inning, pushing no less than ten runs across in the fourth.

John Sivie paced the winners with a homer, double and two singles in five trips to the plate.

Dennis Frew chipped in with two doubles and a single.

For Page Local, Eric Crabtree was the whole show. He had two homers in two at-bats and drove in all three of the losers runs.

Suspended Game

The Ravens and Park Service completed one suspended game on Saturday, then started another.

In the completed contest, the Birds won, 13-12. They're leading in the newly-suspended game, too, 8-7.

The May 27th game between the two teams was 10-10 in the final inning when darkness halted things. On Saturday, Park Service pushed two runs across in the top of the seventh but the Ravens came right back for three tallies to pull it out.

The two teams were able to get in only three innings of their regularly scheduled tussle. Gary Weible slammed a homer for the Birds who tallied eight times in the second inning.

Two double plays by Park Service featured the short contest.

Pacific Coast Seeks Damages

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — The Pacific Coast League, which once tried to shun the majors in a bid to become a third big league, now is asking them to help it stay in business if the Giants and Dodgers move west.

PCL President Leslie O'Connor started putting this cry for help in writing today to Commissioner Ford Frick, National League President Warren Giles, and American League President William Harridge.

After five hours of continuous discussion Sunday, the seven clubs which attended an emergency meeting came up with this proposal if the move is made to San Francisco and Los Angeles:

—These two cities would be replaced by a pair of strong major league farm clubs from other minor loops.

—The Coast League would receive a share of radio and television money which the major teams get when beaming their games into PCL territory.

Four Spots Open For NCAA Nines

By UNITED PRESS

Four berths remained open today for the NCAA baseball championship tournament, starting next Saturday at Omaha, Neb.

Penn State, Connecticut, Notre Dame and Iowa State advanced into the eight-team college "world series" during the week end.

Penn State won the District 2 eliminations by downing St. John's 5-0, behind sophomore Cal Emery's five - hitter; Connecticut blanked Springfield, 5-0, in the District 1 final; Notre Dame whipped Northwestern, 6-1, in the District 4 final, and Iowa State clinched the District 5 berth by upsetting Bradley, 3-0.

Phillie Rookies Move Team to Within Two Games of Cincy

By FRED DOWN

Add Dick Farrell to Jack Sanford and Don Cardwell and the dark-horse Philadelphia Phillies are getting the best rookie pitching the National League has seen since Jim Turner and Lou Fette each won 20 games for the Boston Braves back in 1937.

Farrell, a 6-foot, 3-inch right hander from Brookline, Mass., picked up his third victory of the season Sunday when the Phillies beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-3, and moved to within two games of the first-place Cincinnati Redlegs. It was the Phillies' third straight over the Dodgers and their 11th victory in their last 15 games.

The Redlegs clobbered the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, for their seventh straight win over the Bruins but then lost the nightcap, 4-2, to the three-hit pitching of Bob Rush and Don Elston. The third-place Milwaukee Braves downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, and the Pittsburgh Pirates swept the New York Giants, 3-2 and 2-0, in the other National League games.

Chisox, Yanks Both Split

The Chicago White Sox split their double-header with the Detroit Tigers, winning, 4-1, after a 3-1 defeat to retain their five-game lead in the American League. The second - place New York Yankees bounced back from a 3-2 loss to down the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1, the Kansas City Athletics whipped the Cleveland Indians, 8-2, and the Boston Red Sox scored a 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators in other A.L. activity.

Farrell, who yielded only three hits in the last five innings after taking over for Bob Miller, now has a 3-1 record. He, Sanford and Cardwell have combined for a 12-3 mark so far this year and have transformed a team that the experts said was headed for the second division into a dangerous pennant threat. Farrell and Stan Lopata homered for the Phillies' key blows as Don Newcombe suffered his fifth loss compared to four wins.

Bob Thurman hit a grand slam homer and George Crowe also homered as the Redlegs rallied in their opener to give Hershell Freeman his third win. In the second game, Elston took over when Rush suffered a pulled muscle in his right leg in the sixth inning. The win was Rush's first after six straight losses.

Bob Buhl, aided by Ernie Johnson's ninth-inning relief work, won his fourth game as the Braves took over third place and droped the Dodgers to fourth.

Ronnie Kline won his first game in the opener and Bob Purkey hurled a four-hitter in the nightcap as the Pirates swept their first double-header of the season. Willie Mays stretched his hitting streak to 21 games in the opener but was stoped in four at-bats by Purkey in the second game.

Kaline Plays Brilliantly

Jack Harshman's four - hitter enabled the White Sox to split their double-header after Al Kaline staged a one - man offensive for Detroit in the opener. Walt Dropo homered for the White Sox in the second game after Kaline smashed three singles and a double and scored all Detroit's runs in the first game.

Ralph Terry turned in a three-hitter and Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Elston Howard homered for the Yankees after ex-Yankee Bill Wight fliped a three-hitter in the opener. Terry struck out four and walked three to post his first big league shutout.

The A's tagged relief ace Ray Narleski with his first defeat when they scored six runs in the eighth inning. Bob Cerv's three-run triple was the big blow of the frame which brought ex-Yankee Mickey McDermott his first victory of the season.

Ted Williams blasted his 12th homer of the year with two on in the eighth inning to provide the Red Sox with a come-from-behind victory.

Redl Seeks 15th Straight Win

NEW YROK (UP)—Stefan Redl, unbeaten German welterweight now living at Passaic, N.J., seeks his 15th straight victory tonight in his last fight before entering the United States Army.

Redl, 24, is favored at 3-1 to beat Frank Ippolito of New York in their TV (DuMont) 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena because of his punch and because of Ippolito's inactivity.

Stefan registered 11 knockouts during his 14 consecutive victories.

Ippolito, 23, has an 18-4-1 record.

Keller Rejoins Yanks as Coach

NEW YORK (UP) — Charlie (King Kong) Keller, who hung up his uniform five years ago, will put it back on again next Tuesday when he rejoins the New York Yankees as a coach in Cleveland.

The popular, 40-year-old ex-Yankee outfielder will fill a vacancy created when coach Randy Gumpert leaves the club after Sunday's game to take over his duties as manager of the Kearney, club of the Class D Nebraska State League.

No Girdles for the 'Women of Future'

By ALFRED LEECH

CHICAGO (UP)—The corset people are in a dither because a fashion designer says the woman of the future won't need a girdle.

Designer Adele Simpson predicted recently that 50 years hence, women will have such good figures they won't need to wear "unmentionables."

She said the improvement will come from vitamins and exercise.

Betty Vincent, educational director and fashion consultant for the Formfit Company, was quick to take issue.

Fifty years from now, said she, women still will come in assorted shapes and sizes.

Bet Her Girdle

Miss Vincent was willing to bet her girdle that even 500 years from now the female figure will vary little from today's models, "vitamins and exercise not withstanding."

"I think Mrs. Simpson is being unduly optimistic," she said. "Vitamins may be important to health but they'll do little to lift the bosom or control the average derriere."

Female shapes, she said, have changed but little over the past several thousand years, and to expect a radical improvement in the next half century is "wishful thinking."

Walter Stein, president of Perma-Lift, said even the woman with an "average" figure needs special attention.

"If you package her undergarments without fitting her, you are an assassin of her individuality", he said.

Only One Dress

This was in direct conflict with Mrs. Simpson's views. She holds that a gal 50 years from now will need only one dress, of an elasticized fabric, for all - purpose wear.

Mrs. Simpson has put together such a garment and will display it at a fashion show to be staged as part of Oklahoma's semi-centennial. The dress requires no "control" undergarments.

To Miss Vincent, this is heresy. True, she said, today's Hollywood ideal has less avoirdupois than Venus de Milo. But, said Miss Vincent, "the fundamentals of female anatomy are the same."

She said girdles have been a part of the fashion picture since Cleopatria's time.

"And they're here to stay," she said.

Carl E. Vuono

Carl E. Vuono, Mon City Youth, West Pointer

WEST POINT, N. Y. — Carl E. Vuono, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vuono, 495 Park Ave., Monongahela, will be graduated Wednesday from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Vuono will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the artillery branch and will receive a bachelor of science degree. At West Point, he was active in the golf and French clubs and the dialectic society, a theatre group.

Appointed to the academy by Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D) of the 26th Congressional District, Pennsylvania, Vuono was a cadet sergeant during his senior year.

He attended the University of Pittsburgh for one year after graduating from Monongahela High School in 1952.

Billy Graham Says Coming of Christ Is Near

NEW YORK (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Sunday night the second coming of Christ is near because the nation is on the verge of a spiritual revival.

"He may not come in this generation," the evangelist said. "None of us know the hour he will come, but many believe that signs he has given indicate that his coming is much nearer than we first believed."

Graham said the second coming "has been the burning hope of the Church for 2,000 years . . . Christ will return and rule over this earth."

"How is he coming" Graham asked. "Paul says he shall descend from the heavens...I've already got my ticket. How about you?"

A legless man in a wheelchair was among 464 persons who made "decisions for Christ" at the close of the evangelist's sermon. This brought to 11,644 the total number of persons who have made decisions. Some 335,300 persons have heard Graham since he began his crusade May 15.

Science Today —

Diabetes Pills Are Success

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP) — Medical science may yet substitute the pill for the needle in all cases of diabetes. As the first limited - use diabetes pill got over its final hurdle, scientists reported on another which experimentally gives promise of being an all-diabetes-purpose pellet.

The limited - use pill is "orinase." Today it received a federal license which makes it available to prescribing physicians generally. The experimental pill is DBI which is short - term and limited trial has been shown to be "active" in all types of diabetes.

It was "active" enough in some cases of all types to substitute for insulin injected by needle, which makes it a chemical marvel because insulin is a natural (and vital) substance and DBI, like orinase, is man-made. The first tests in human beings were reported to the American Diabetes Association which met here in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

DBI Not Proven

The practical difference between orinase and DBI at this stage is that orinase has been proven out and DBI has not been. A federal license means it is safe when properly used. Because diabetes is no simple disease, orinase has to be used under the supervision of a doctor.

In its long - term tests in 18,000 diabetics, it has been found an effective substitute for injected insulin in mild and moderate cases, especially in diabetics who are 40 and older and require no more than 40 insulin units daily. It is of no help for juvenile diabetics, for unstable forms of diabetes, for diabetics who rapidly develop acidosis, and for diabetes with complications.

Even with these limitations, orinase is a wonder since 70 to 75 per cent of America's approximately 1,600,000 diabetics are over 40 and the try-outs indicate that four out of five in the over-40 group may be able to substitute the pill for the needle. Diabetics should need no warning flags; still it has to be well understood that whether any given diabetic can or can not is a decision for a physician.

A Complicated Compound

The letters DBI stand for n'beta - phenethylformanidinyliminourea, which, as you can see, is a complicated compound. Its experimental promise is that it can lower the blood sugar and correct the other metabolic faults of the diabetic in their most volatile and extreme forms.

Dr. Leo Kroll of Boston reported tests in 121 diabetics ranging in age from 10 years to 80 and covering every type of the disease. Of the 121, he had only 14 out-and-out failures. These could have been due to errors in doses and in potencies — after all, DBI is very new.

Dr. Robert H. Williams, University of Washington, and Dr. Julius Pomeranze reported similar results but in fewer patients. The trials in human beings so far cover less than a year and involve fewer than 200 persons. So we will have to wait a while for the final answer on DBI — whether it is the all - diabetic - purpose pill or isn't.

Eden Leaves for Britain Today

LONDON (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden sailed home to Britain today for the first time since ill health and the failure of his Suez policy combined last Jan. 9 to force him out of office as the nation's premier.

Eden, still ailing despite a five-month vacation and a prolonged course of medical treatment for bile duct trouble in Boston, was due to arrive from Canada aboard the liner Empress of Britain, docking in Liverpool this afternoon.

Queen Elizabeth II ordered one of her own planes to the northern seaport to fly Eden to Rose Bower, his country cottage at Broade Chalk, Wilshire.

Three Women Die in Fire In Worcester

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP) — A pre-dawn fire raced through the Hotel Pleasant today, killing three women and injuring at least nine other persons.

About 50 others were led to safety, many down fire ladders.

Four of the injured were reported in critical condition at City Hospital and at least one was not expected to survive.

None of the dead was immediately identified.

Most of those staying at the 65-room hotel were permanent residents.

The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out on the first floor and quickly swept through the six-story combination brick-wood building. It was extinguished in an hour.

Listed in critical condition with serious burns were Maurice O'Connor, 53; his wife, Lillian 46; Miss Margaret O'Brien, and an unidentified man.

Five others who suffered smoke inhalation were hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Those who escaped injury were given temporary lodging at a welfare home.

Steel Production Is Boosted Since March

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—The first increase in steel production since early March boosted output to 86 per cent of rated capacity last week, Steel magazine said today.

The upturn amounted to 2 points over the previous week's production, raising the weekly total for ingots and castings to about 2,201,161 net tons.

Reduced consumers inventories and prospects of a mill - price increase in July were cited by the publication as reasons for reversal of the downward trend in production.

Steel said the industry's wage costs are expected to rise 20-cents an hour July 1. Leaders in the industry predict a compensating price increase from $5 to $7 per ton, with some steelmakers demanding an even stiffer price incline.

Open Tonnage Offered

Most mills have open tonnage to offer for shipment this month the metalworking weekly said. Available stocks include sheets, strip, bars, wire products commercial pipe, light shapes and strip plate.

Prompt deliveries are possible because some producers have stocks of steel processed slightly beyond the semifinished stage, the magazine said.

Only producers booked solidly into the third quarter are manufacturers of sheared plates, wide flange structurals, tin plate, and some sizes of oil country pipe and certain specialties.

Late Third Quarter

Automotive accounts are not expected to resume heavy ordering until the late third quarter when 1958 model runs get underway, Steel reported. The magazine noted that passenger car producers are facing revision of their buying habits because of a shift to year-round demand, rather than strong seasonal rushes as previously experienced.

Steel prices are reported holding at present, with the publication's arithmetical average on base prices of finished steel unchanged over last week at $140.24 per net ton. Index prices at the same period last month were $139.71. They were $128.98 a year ago, and $106.32 five years ago.

American Labs Are Alerted to Influenza Virus

WASHINGTON (UP)—American laboratories have been alerted to watch for the possible appearance in this country of the new influenza virus that has been sweeping the Far East, a World Health Organization official disclosed Sunday night.

Dr. Carl Dauer, executive secretary of the U.N. agency's U.S. Influenza Information Center, said that with travelers returning constantly from the Orient the virus could hit the West Coast at any time.

He expressed interest in reports the Asian epidemic already has spread to Brazil.

Dauer, who also is a medical adviser to the U.S. Public Health Service said: "We don't anticipate anything very severe at this time. But he added safeguards have been taken to identify the virus if it appears.

Parachute Fails To Open Near Indiantown Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (UP)—A paratrooper was killed Sunday when his parachute failed to open in a 2,000-foot jump from a private plane.

The victim was identified by Lebanon County Coroner H. W. Reed as Sgt. James E. Thornton, 25, a native of Lena, Miss. He has a wife and three children in Fayetteville, N.C., near where he was previously stationed at Ft. Bragg.

Reed said Thornton a member of a paratroop unit stationed here to assist in reserve and National Guard training, apparently pulled the rip cord opening his reserve chute and the jolt jerked the shroud lines from the parachute harness. The paratrooper struck the ground in a barley field northwest of the Fredericksburg Airport.

The pilot of the two-seater plane was unidentified.

Flash Flood in Fort Worth: Rains to Come

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—A flash flood rolled through portions of Fort Worth Sunday but not many persons had to flee their homes—they hadn't been able to move back in since the last flood.

More rain was expected over Texas today, where most rivers are at flood stage or above. Two persons were feared dead in Sunday's chapter of the two-month long siege of violent weather.

Flood gates at Lake Texoma between Texas and Oklahoma were opened sending tons of water into the Red River. Engineers kept the gates open as long as possible but water was boiling two feet over the spillway and rising.

The Red River reached high flood stages in west central Louisiana last month.

Fossil Creek rose three feet in 15 minutes from the downpour, sending water into fashionable homes in the Richland Hills area at Fort Worth.

But there were very few persons to be moved out. Most residents hadn't been able to return to their homes since they were driven out by the last flood.

Many were living in 150 federally repossessed apartment units the government offered for rent at $1 per month.

North of San Antonio two airmen attempting to drive over flood-swollen Cibolo Creek were washed off the bridge. Their bodies had not been found.

In loving memory of our dear wife and aunt, Ella Page, who died nine years ago yesterday, June 2, 1948
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief, a shock severe:
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh, God, grant you eternal rest.
Sadly missed by Husband, David Page, and Nieces, Jennie Miller and Jessie Laidley.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, John Michael Nicastro, who died 15 years ago today, June 3, 1942
He bade no one a last farewell
He said goodbye in no one's
His loving heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew that he had gone
His cheerful smile and kindly ways
We pleasantly recall
He had kind words for everyone
And died beloved by all
Sadly missed by his Parents and Sister

What's the Story on The TV Quiz Show

(First of a three part series. Today: The world's most celebrated quiz show marks its second anniversary. Is it really on the level?)

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The most famous safe deposit box in the world is a gray steel job numbered 1251.

It rests in a duel control vault in the basement of a glass-walled building of the Manufacturers Trust Co. in Manhattan. It is plastered with a red seal and two strips of green masking tape.

It doesn't have a penny inside it.

It is a true magic box. It is the box that contains the queries used on the most celebrated quiz in broadcasting history, 'The $64,000 Question."

This week, the CBS-TV giveaway marks the start of its third year on the air. It has behind it: 92 contestants, $1,427,689 and 19 Cadillacs valued at $5,200 apiece. It still ih watched in 16 million homes each week.

It also has given rise to a body of questions—some naive, some pertinent:

Is the show fixed? Are contestants given the answers? Are "upbeat" guests allowed to win and "downbeat" ones bumped off? Is that question box really closely guarded or is that just production nonsense? What is the mysterious release form that all contestants are forced to sign?

The release form is the easiest to answer. It is a standard form used on most quiz shows. In the main, it prevents contestants from endorsing products that compete with the sponsors's, or competing on other shows.

The question box is an easy one, too. Ben Feit and James Agne, bank officials, have its only keys. Feit say it is impossible for anyone to get into the vault without them—even the producers of the show.

On two occasions, questions have been changed shortly before the show. One took place when Myrt Power, a baseball expert, was going for $32 000. A columnist suggested a possible question for her and it almost hit her question on the button. Myrt's query was changed the morning of the show.

The second instance occurred when Redmond O'Hanlon, a cop fond of Shakespeare, had gone to $16,000. A Boston paper interviewed Bergen Evans, the man who writes most of the questions, and Evans inadvertently leaked part of the $32.000 question. That question had to be changed, too. But it didn't matter much—O'Hanlon quit at $16,000.

A Flat "No—"

The answer to whether a straight "fix" is present is a flat "no."

But the question of whether "control" is possible—whether the producers knock off contestants they don't like and keep those they do—is tougher.

However, it boils down to his: If "controls" are present, it is to the advantage of the show to keep contestants who grab big audiences and kill off those bores who lose viewers.

As Steve Carlin, executive producer of the show, puts it: "The only controls are those on us—our questions have to be from the heart of the subject. If we ever attempted to put in something obscure to trip up a contestant, the roof would fall in."

Keeping Kids Happy On Long Auto Trip

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

If you are embarking on a long vacation trip in the family auto this summer, I may be able to save you some trouble. For unless you are properly prepared, youngsters can be pretty trying traveling companions.

Long before you leave, make a visit to the neighborhood dime store and invest a few dollars — dimes do not go far anymore — in several small toys or games which you can spring as a surprise on your children when the occasion demands. Keep them hidden until you actually need them in the car to quell an argument or to soothe a tantrum.

Coloring books, a deck of cards and such simple things probably are best for tiny tots. For older girls, dolls which they can dress or paper cut-outs will keep them occupied for a long time. Boys can find amusement in cardboard press-outs of soldiers, boats, cars and the like.

Of course, you've got to make a certain amount of room for the children's favorite traveling toys which they will need throughout the trip.

Games are good time-passers.

As you start out in the morning let each member of the family make a guess as to the number of out-of-state license plates you'll spot during the day. Give a daily prize to make the game worthwhile.

You can set a time limit on counting things on each side of the road.

For example, let the youngster on one side of the car count the number of white houses seen within the next ten miles. Let the other child do the same on his side.

Stop at the side of the road every couple of hours and tell the youngsters to race to a certain point and back. Do this a few times and they will run off their excess energy.

Just one word about eating.

Traveling is apt to be hard on a child's stomach, so don't make things even more difficult by filling him up on drinks and candy. Make sure his meals are at least adequate, even if they are only sandwiches and milk.

Longest Ticket Dispute Reported

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Roland Hill, director of American Travel Headquarters here, disputed today a Tokyo travel agency report that it had issued the world's longest airline ticket. Tokyo press reports said a 25-foot long ticket had been issued to Nelson Lees to go from Tokyo to the United States via 74 cities in Asia, Australia, South Africa and Europe. "Last November," Hill said, "we issued a 35-foot long ticket for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Balogh of Sydney. They travelled aboard 28 airlines and visited 105 cities in 33 countries."
